The Ajax Experience
Call for Proposals Submission Form

Speaker Information

Name: _____

Company Name: _____

Email Address: _____

City/State/Country: _____

Website: _____

Topic (please check one)	Session Format
___Design and User Experience
___Graphics and effects	___5 minute Lightning Round
___Architecture	___60 minute session
___Security	___90 minute tutorial
___JavaScript	___15 minute HOT Ajax
___Frameworks
___Emerging
___Building Quality Software

Session titles and descriptions are posted on the Web site and used in marketing materials so attendees know what to expect from your session. This should remain consistent with what you will deliver at the conference. We can change things along the way, as necessary. Just let us know in advance.

1. Session title:

2. Session description:

3. What problem(s)/challenge(s) will an attendee learn to solve by attending your session?

4. What are you addressing that represents or indicates a new or emerging trend? And why do attendees need to be aware of this information TODAY?

5. What will attendees learn by attending your session? Please list 3-4 attendee takeaways. (In this session you will learn; attend and learn how to; after attending this session you will be able to)

6. Who should attend your session? (please indicate by job title or by years of experience or level of the session)

7. What basics should attendees know before attending your session? This may exclude some attendees, so try to be as inclusive as possible.

8. Describe the format of the presentation (case study, presentation with real world examples, hands on, step by step instructions, problem-solving session where attendees bring questions)

Please email the completed form with your bio and photo to ajaxexperience@techtarget.com
Deadline is April 1, 2009.